

SENATORS WIN TITLE IN 12TH, 4 TO 3

M'Neely's Hit Sends Winning Run Over Plate

Harris' Single in Eighth Inning Scores Two Runs and Ties Up Game
JOHNSON IN GAME AGAIN
Veteran Hurler Takes Up Battle in Ninth Inning and Helps Win

Washington, D. C. — Washington won the world's baseball championship today defeating the New York Giants, four time National league champions, 4 to 3 in the twelfth inning of the seventh and deciding game, one of the most spectacular ever played.

McNeely, young outfielder drove in Ruel with the winning run. He doubled to left field in the twelfth after one was out. The credit for the final victory went to Walter Johnson, great veteran who went in as a relief pitcher with the score tied in the ninth inning and held the Giants scoreless for the rest of the game.

The wildest, most frenzied demonstration that ever followed a world's victory came with the winning run. Most of the vast crowd of 35,000, which included President Coolidge, swept down on the field in a joy and outburst of enthusiasm over the climax to Washington's first pennant victory—Her first world title.

ENGINEERS HOLD DUCK CREEK CANAL IS IMPRACTICAL

Riparian Owners Tell Government They Must Have Canal
at Any Cost

In the face of statements by engineers from the state railroad commission that the proposed Shiocton drainage ditch from the Wolf river to Duck Creek will take away only the "peak" of the annual spring floods and will not give the expected relief and in the face of the charge by F. J. Sensenbrenner, Neenah paper manufacturer, that the ditch would insure navigation on the Fox river, riparian land owners at the hearing before government engineers in the city hall Thursday afternoon decided the ditch must be dug at any cost.

With Major Gilbert V. B. Wilkey of the government engineering office and Earl Nisen of the Milwaukee engineering office in charge of the hearing, the riparian owners represented by Allan H. Tripp, president of the Association for the Relief of High Water, George H. Randall, Oshkosh, city engineer, and Attorney George E. Williams of Oshkosh, gave their viewpoint. They brought that 500 people along the Fox and Wolf rivers had been troubled by high waters in the last 40 years, that a canal at Shiocton or the enlargement of Duck Creek all the way to Green Bay is an absolute necessity, and that government assistance will be needed for the project.

Mr. Tripp said that over $5,500,000 damage has been caused by the high water. There is no wish on the part of riparian owners to injure the waterpower users, only to lower the water enough to a level the owners and still leave enough for the manufacturers. This year showed that the Neenah and Menasha dams could not handle the flow of water well enough to protect the farmer, he said.

Mr. Williams said that the government should make a serious effort to solve this problem at once. In his opinion more money than is now being expended is needed to give the matter a real investigation.

Mr. Randall was very much in favor of haste in the matter.

George T. Kern, C. W. Singler, and Theodore Berg all spoke in favor of the plan. Mr. Thiem stated that his and his well under water until July, making crops impossible. Mr. Singler said that his land "became flooded" in 14 hours and that if nothing was done he would have to move out. He has a farm of 243 acres. Mr. Berg said that was for the plan but not unless navigation was unharmed by it. He wanted immediate relief of some kind, such as levees, as it will take a long time for the investigation and then the legislation to be put through. In that time great damage could be done.

Next the water users gave their opinions. They were represented by F. J. Sensenbrenner, president of the Neenah and Menasha Water Power Co., J. W. Grider, the company engineer, and Moses Hooper, attorney.

Mr. Sensenbrenner stated that the project was bad for navigation and should be absolutely approved. He stated how navigation had been affected by such drainage projects in the past. In this connection several letters against the plan were read from the Fox River Paper Co., Kinross.

WICHMAN CHARGED WITH ASSAULTING DIVORCED WIFE

Former Roadhouse Proprietor Can't Keep Out of Trouble

Herman Wichman, former proprietor of the Blazing Stump, roadhouse on the Darboy rd., is in bad again. A few weeks ago he had been arrested in Appleton for carrying concealed weapons. A week later his wife, Agnes Wichman, fearing for her safety, obtained a divorce from him and an injunction restraining her former husband from annoying her or interfering with her affairs in any way.

The divorced husband is being held in the Neenah jail on a charge of committing assault and battery upon his former wife. It is alleged that this is not the first time the offense has happened. Mrs. Wichman charges him with a similar offense shortly after the divorce was granted. As a result Wichman is wanted both in Neenah and Appleton on two warrants. It is possible that the Neenah chief will turn him over to the Appleton authorities first and then nearest him after his case has been disposed of here.

Mrs. Tilkey Suffered Intense
Agony For 2 Years Then Turned to Tanlac.

"Tanlac ended twelve years of almost constant suffering from stomach trouble for me, and I will praise it as long as I live, for had it not been for Tanlac I doubt that I would be alive today," declares Mrs. Frederick J. Tilkey, who resides at 1614 Oak St., Marinette, Wis.

"What I went through from both acute and chronic indigestion up to two years ago hardly can be described. Cutting pains that almost shut off my breath and that often lasted far into the night were so severe that I often would walk the floor for hours. Even the strictest dieting seemed to help but little, and I was on the verge of despair."

"But here I am at the age of 73, enjoying the best of health, eating heartily of everything I like without any after troubles, all due to this wonderful medicine, Tanlac."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 Million bottles sold.

3 AMENDMENTS TO STATE BASIC LAW ON NOV. 4 BALLOT

Home, Reforestation and Judicial Questions Placed Before Voters

The presidential and state election on Nov. 4 is made more important by three proposed state constitutional amendments which will be voted upon by the electors. These are an amendment to grant cities and villages home rule, an amendment giving the state to engage in reforestation and an amendment to increase the number of circuit judges.

The first of these, the so-called home rule amendment, was voted upon several years ago, but was defeated by the people, through what was believed to have been a misunderstanding. Sentiment has changed since then, it is said, and through the impetus given it by city and village officials, particularly by the League of Wisconsin Municipalities, the movement has been revived.

Under the amendment, "Cities and villages organized pursuant to state law are empowered to determine their local affairs and government, subject only to the state constitution and to such enactments of the legislature of statewide concern as shall with uniformity affect every city or village. The method of such determination shall be prescribed by legislature."

UTILITIES OPPOSED
Under the present provisions of the constitution, cities and villages have only the powers of determining their own affairs and government which may have been granted to them by the legislature. If this amendment is ratified, cities and villages, by following the methods of determination which may be prescribed by the legislature, will have all powers of determining their own affairs. Privately owned public utilities have opposed the measure in the past because they feared the power of local governments.

An amendment voted upon two years ago to raise the constitutional limitation of municipal indebtedness from 5 per cent to 10 per cent of the taxable property of municipalities, was defeated two years ago. This limitation is not affected by the home rule amendment, but will remain the same, since it is a state law of statewide concern.

Another amendment passed by the last legislature and submitted to the voters this fall for ratification is that empowering the state to "appropriate moneys for the purpose of acquiring, preserving and developing the forests of the state," the limit of one year's appropriation being fixed at a tax of two-tenths of one mill of the taxable property of the state. Heretofore the state has been prohibited from engaging in any internal improvements except under grant of property especially dedicated to particular works of internal improvement, and except as to the construction and improvement of public highways.

LESS WAGES FOR JUDGE
The third amendment increases the number of circuit court judges in counties that have a population greater than $5,000. Under present provisions, the number of circuit judges is limited to one for each circuit except in Milwaukee-co. But should this amendment be ratified, any circuit containing a county having a population of $5,000 may be granted an additional circuit judge. The amendment is designed to lessen the burden of work for judges in well populated counties.

TRIANGLE CLUB BOYS INITIATED IN HI-Y CLUB

Eleven members of last year's Sophomore Triangle club were initiated into the HI-Y club at a meeting held Wednesday evening at the Y. M. C. A. Several more are waiting to be initiated as soon as their applications are acted upon. Tuesday evening the members of last year's Freshman Triangle club will hold a meeting when several will give their decisions on joining this year's Sophomore Triangle club which will meet at 7:30 on Tuesday evenings. No leader has been picked as yet.

The tendency of voters thus far has been to vote down all constitutional amendments. Last spring the amendment to increase legislators' salaries was defeated, and two years ago two of three amendments submitted were voted down. The amendment ratified was the one which made a five-sixths vote of juries in civil verdicts valid. The amendment to permit sheriffs to succeed themselves in office and the one increasing the bonding limit of a municipality were defeated.

CHILDREN LEARN HOW TO STOP FIRES

Fourth Ward Youngsters Put On Vivid Fire Prevention
Week Program

One of the best programs of Fourth district school was presented at the assembly hour on Wednesday by the eighth grade science class. The hour was opened by a reading of the governor's proclamation on fire prevention week by Delmont Bradford, after which Herman Wolfram gave a demonstration of what is required for fire. Beatie Warner gave "Rules For The Care of Matches." Elmer Jansen gave "Rules For The Care of Stoves and Furnaces" and Edith Davidson gave "Rules Regarding Outdoor Fires."

An unusual little play, entitled "The Cigarette That Jack Had," was presented by a cast made up of Edward Burr, Harley Cole, Evelyn LeRoux, Alice Dittmer, Harry Hove and Mike Bohachoff. A series of discussions of questions about fire followed. Some of the questions were:

Should doors and windows be open or closed in a burning building? discussed by Alice Dittmer: "If you were in a burning hotel, and wished to look out into the hall, what precautions would you take before opening the door?" by Jess Halvorson: "What is the rule for jumping out of a window?" by Elmyra Beyer: "If you were entering a burning building, would you go in the top or bottom?" by Evelyn LeRoux: "If you were compelled to leave a burning building by the window, how could you minimize the danger?" by Harley Cole.

This question and discussion was amplified by a demonstration by Elmer Jansen, a boy scout. He showed the class how to tie knots, and construct a rope from a sheet, making it possible to escape from the building by means of the rope.

STUDENTS LEARN HOW TO WRAP PACKAGES

A practical lesson in package wrapping was given the salesmanship class at the high school Wednesday following a talk by Arthur Howe of the Pettibone-Peabody company on the right and the wrong ways to do up a package.

The students also were shown the Parisian way of tying up a package, that of leaving a large loop of string by which to carry the bundle. It was brought out that during the war gummed paper took the place of string, but most packages are now tied with twine.

TRADES COUNCIL IS FOR HOME RULE LAW

With election only three weeks away and several amendments to the state constitution to be voted upon, organized labor of Appleton Wednesday night was urged to get behind the home rule amendment and help put it across. The amendment was endorsed by the Appleton Trades and Labor council Wednesday following receipt of a message from the Milwaukee city council recommending such action.

The home rule amendment, if passed, will give villages and cities in Wisconsin broader self-governing powers and leave local affairs to the local governing bodies without first seeking permission from the state legislative branch which, it is held, has often acted as a block to local progress. Other state, such as Minnesota, Michigan, Ohio, Oregon, are credited as being ahead of Wisconsin for giving to cities broader home rule than Badger cities have.

tween the regular Republicans and the Independents.
Only a few days before Senator Brookhart of Iowa demanded that General Dawes be taken off the Republican ticket. One of the names he suggested to take Dawes' place was Kenyon. Kenyon has long been regarded as one of the foremost Progressives of the country, and is a man of the highest personal and official standing. If General Dawes is satisfactory to him he will be satisfactory to thousands upon thousands of other Progressives in Iowa. The same is true of Coolidge, although he admittedly has more personal strength in the central West than his running mate.
The net result is that Senator Brookhart is out of the Republican party, while Kenyon and Borah, both of whom are presidential timber, remain with it. The effect of this cannot fail to be beneficial to the Republican national ticket. We think the reason why so many prominent Progressives have refused to follow La Follette is because of his socialist affiliations. Socialism is not popular in the United States and never has been. Berger says it is a complete failure. It is, therefore, a heavy handicap to the Independent ticket to have to associate itself with the socialists and to have on its campaign committee such men as Berger, Hiloquit and other radicals.
The American people seem to be getting their sober second sense in this campaign and to comprehend just what is back of the La Follette candidacy. Senator La Follette has great personal strength himself. Some of his policies are favored by a large percentage of the people. There can be no question, however, that his union with socialism in this campaign is a heavy handicap and is hurting his candidacy. That and his supreme court proposal are vote losers rather than vote getters. The malcontents of the country will stick to Mr. La Follette, but we believe that within the next two weeks large numbers of those who were partly inclined to support him will come to an adverse decision and will be found with Coolidge and Dawes. The action taken by Kenyon and Borah is of ominous import to the Independent ticket.

INTERNATIONAL RACING
Although Epinard, the champion of the French turf, has lost two races in the United States, he is the favorite in the Latonia track race of tomorrow. Ladkin, the winner, and Epinard made practically the speed record at Aqueduct, yet Epinard did not run his best, and in the opinion of experts would have been victorious there had not a jockey on another horse forced Epinard, seemingly unfairly, to fall back several lengths.
Epinard is a French horse, but of American breed. Strictly speaking, he is an American horse, reared in southern France. His owner had the good sense to bring him to the United States in plenty of time to work into good condition, and he is showing off well, whereas the English champion, loudly heralded, made no impression at all last year.
If all nations could have baseball clubs, football teams, soccer elevens, and so on, in international leagues, there would be less chance of war or misunderstanding. Men disagree and quarrel because, being unacquainted, they misjudge one another. It is the same with nations.

A HERE are all kinds of sports that a man can enjoy. It's wise and will play now and then. He's learned the long kick, one by one, since a boy and he's learned to learn them again. HARD BLOW TO THE INDEPENDENTS
Federal Judge Kenyon of Iowa has come out for Coolidge and Dawes. So has Senator Borah of Idaho. These defections are a severe blow to the cause of 1924 Progressivism. It will be doubly serious in Iowa, where a great contest is being waged for the electoral vote be-

HEAT, HEALTH AND HUMIDITY
Before you start the furnace to heat to clean out the flue and see that there is no leak in the chimney pipe. But although these precautions are important, to insure a good draft and no escape of carbon monoxide or other products of combustion into the air of the house, it is also important from the hygienic point of view, to clear your mind of some old and erratic notions about household heating.
A common question is the relative hygienic value of different methods of heating—stove, hot air furnace, steam, hot water. The efficiency, economy or adaptability of these methods vary with the size and arrangement of the dwelling to be heated, but there is little choice between them, from the hygienic viewpoint. Perhaps the stove—no matter whether the fuel be coal, wood, oil or gas—is best, provided, of course, that it has proper connection with the flue. Next, in my judgment, comes the hot air furnace, and I place that second because it is most satisfactory when fairly free ventilation of the dwelling is maintained, whereas hot water or steam heating rather favors poor ventilation by functioning fairly well even when the ventilation is far from the hygienic standard. Electric heaters are practically the same, as far as hygiene aspects are concerned, as the hot water or steam radiator. Of course the electric heater has no flue connection, since it doesn't burn anything.
The common error, which I fear is pretty deeply rooted, is that it is necessary to heat living rooms to a temperature of from 74 to 78 degrees, and often even higher. This is a most unwholesome temperature. It is several degrees higher than the ideal temperature of a perfect autumn day. It is very easy to acclimatize the body, at least to a certain extent, to such an extreme temperature so that the normal or normal temperature will feel a little chilly, and this is the misfortune of thousands of semi-invalids and enfeebled folk—they become softened under the hot house environment and actually feel uncomfortable under normal environment.
The right household temperature is between 64 and 68 degrees Fahrenheit. If you start in the autumn with this standard and stick to it for a month or two, you'll find that all hands will learn to like it before the winter is over. And when you keep the household temperature within these normal bounds you are living in a healthful atmosphere. Elderly or feeble members of the family should use heavier or warmer clothing if necessary; it is far better for them to keep warm that way and have the benefit of the proper atmospheric condition for breathing. It is a common mistake of women particularly, to dress very lightly and overheat the house in the endeavor to keep warm. The less clothing anybody can wear at any time, with due regard for comfort, the better for health. But heavier clothing, or rather warmer clothing, is certainly more healthful than overheated atmosphere.
I haven't referred to humidity, you see. It is of no importance. If you keep the household temperature within the hygienic limit, the humidity will take care of itself. If you overheat in the popular fashion, nothing under the sun will maintain the proper humidity. The excessive dryness of overheated air is one factor that accounts for the undue sensitiveness of the body to chilliness. The relatively greater humidity of the air kept between 64 and 68 degrees conduces to greater comfort.

Wisdom Tooth
Would it be harmful for an expectant mother to have a wisdom tooth extracted? She expects her baby in November. (L. C. P.)
Answer—Ordinarily an expectant mother need not hesitate to have any necessary dental treatment, including extraction, done. At this late stage, however, she should ask her physician about it.

Or brighten dances,
I quickly add the flush of youth
And make romances.
I come in cakes of ruddy flakes

From Michigan to Chile—
I do my work on desert sands,

And girls may come and girls may go,
But I "go on" forever.

Find Light Has Effect On Plant Growth

BY FREDERICK J. HASKIN
Washington, D. C.—The affection of plants for the kindly sun, so long proclaimed by observing poets, appears to be a trifle exaggerated. A rose can be made to grow and bloom under a yellow electric light, or an artificial light of blue, red, or any other color, and it will still be a rose and look just about the same as if it had been "kissed by the gentle sunbeams."
Experiments in raising plants under colored light have been conducted in the past, and the experimenters have emerged from their weirdly colored greenhouse laboratories to report that under blue, green or purple light plants failed to develop normally. Every red and yellow were said to be less efficient than the pure white sunlight which combines all colors.
But as Dr. W. W. Garner, of the department of agriculture and his associates H. A. Allard and Dr. R. A. Steinberg, continued this remarkable work with the effect of light on plants, they got around to the question of colored light with the interesting results already mentioned. Dr. Garner and Mr. Allard have already proved a revolutionary theory to account for the fact that chrysanthemums bloom in November, and common irises bloom in May, and poinsettias bloom in December. Temperature had always been regarded as the controlling factor in this question of seasonal blooming. And yet, flowers had tried to make cosmos bloom in off seasons in greenhouses by keeping the temperature at a September level—with no luck.
"The important factor which has been overlooked," says Dr. Garner, "is the length of the day. When cosmos are exposed to light for the number of hours that a September day would give them, they make haste to bloom. Plants may be injured or benefited by changes in temperature and in the intensity of light. Some are very sensitive to these factors. But, in general, life habits of plants do not depend on such uncertain conditions. Every first day of September is the same length, allowing for slight calendar variations, and plants have been under the influence of the unchanging cycles of light for thousands of years; so it is not surprising that the plant world is governed by them."
Keeping a flower from blooming is easy enough by the new light theory. Some cosmos grew up from seed during the spring in a long-day greenhouse that was illuminated from sunset to midnight. In June the plants were moved out of doors where they received only normal summer sunlight. Not until October came and the days were the right length for cosmos to bloom did these specimens produce any blossoms. The plants were 15 feet high.
The experiments in raising plants entirely by artificial light are of interest chiefly to science. There is no need of expensive artificial light replacing free sunlight as a practical inducer of plant growth.
The experiments in lengthening and shortening the days to regulate blossoming and fruiting processes, on the other hand, are of great importance to practical agriculture. Florists will probably be the only specialists to make direct use of the newest knowledge about light. They have greenhouses, and it would be little trouble for them to reproduce the necessary light-day to bring different flowers into bloom at a given season.
The farmer will benefit by the new discoveries in time, indirectly at least. For instance, farmers trying to introduce new varieties of crops will be able to estimate more correctly in what latitude a crop can be expected to bear, now that they know

Adventures In The Library
By ARNOLD MULDER
THE SEQUENCE OF "LEATHER-STOCKING"
How haphazardly many writers work is perhaps nowhere better illustrated than in the famous "Leatherstocking" tales of Cooper. Every real American boy has of course read the "Leatherstocking" series but no real boy has bothered his head about how they were written.
But the question is full of interest for the grownup reader of Cooper. In the order in which boys read the books they begin with Natty Bumppo, the hero, as a very young man and follow him through five novels and many thrilling adventures through mature manhood to old age and finally to death on the prairie. In the order of the sequence of events the books are as follows: "The Pathfinder" in which Natty is a very young man; "The Deerslayer," in which he is in love and is unsuccessful with the girl of his dreams; "The Last of the Mohicans," in which he is in the prime of his manhood; "The Pioneers," in which he appears on the frontiers somewhat disgruntled, aged about 45 or so; and finally, "The Prairie," in which he is a poetic old trap.
That length of daylight must be considered as well as temperature, soil, moisture, and other factors.

LETTER FROM WALTER BURKE TO RUTH ELLINGTON

MY DARLING:

At last I can say these words to you—words that have been singing in my heart for all the years since I have known you—my darling! Now I have the right to call you that, and you have the right to like it, for you are free—free from that scoundrel who made you so unhappy.

In coming to claim you, dear, you know that I would do that, didn't you, Ruth, the moment that I knew you had gotten your divorce? You knew that I would be only happy where I could hold you in my arms and look into your eyes and hear you tell me that you loved me.

Dear one, you have never told me this. In fact, as I write this letter, I grow a little cold for fear that you do not really love me. Oh, Ruth, I want you to love me, for I know all that your love would mean to the man to whom you gave it. No other woman in all the world would give so generously or have so much to give.

Do you know, dear, that I've only one great regret, and that is that in the years of my life before I knew you I made a semblance of love to many women; and now that I have found the Real Woman, now that I know that you are the one woman who can fill my life, I find a dearth in the English language to tell you of my great love for you.

It seems to me that I have rather sullied the words of love by using them unthinkingly to other women. I wish that there were other words more caressing, more sincere, more full of heartfelt devotion to use for you alone.

Oh, Ruth, a man makes such a mistake in frittering away his emotion to those other women, whom he knows absolutely will only fascinate him for a time. He should save that love that he has made by word as does a woman save her devotion, her trust, her faith, her loyalty for the man to whom she at last gives herself entirely.

You will trust me, will you not, dear? For I need perfect faith and perfect trust to keep me faithful and trustworthy.

There are men who believe that jealousy and doubt are always a part of a great love, but I am not that kind. The woman who loves me must believe in me entirely, for I know that I will come as nearly as I can to living up to her ideals, good or bad.

Ruth darling, as I write this, I see you coming toward me I reach out my arms to you across the miles of space. I feel your soft body within these arms, crushing itself close, close to mine. I see your eyes opening to let me see the love that lies within them. I am dreaming of the greatest joy I have ever known.

Ruth, do not disappoint me. I could not bear it. I want you so I am coming to get you and take you and keep you mine—mine, for ever and ever.

WOMEN WHO LOOK OLD

In many cases they are not old in years, but because they are overworked, over-tired, nervous and run-down, ailments have developed peculiar to their sex and this condition makes them look years older than they actually are. Such women should consider the remarkable record held by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. In a recent case among over one hundred and twenty-one thousand women who had used it, ninety-eight out of every one hundred women reported benefit from its use.

MEMONINEES SEEK TO MANAGE THEIR MILL THEMSELVES

Oshkenaniew Tells Pythians of Situation Existing at Reservation

Greater voice in the management of lumbering activities at the Menominee Indian reservation at Neopit is wanted by the Indians in the interest of efficiency and greater profits, according to statements by Mitchell Oshkenaniew, a descendant of Chief Oshkosh in an address at the meeting of the Knights of Pythias in Castle hall Thursday evening.

The Indians believe the methods under which the government operates the logging and sawmill industry there make the overhead cost too high and they feel that if their own ideas of management are applied there will be more profits in the Indian treasury, the speaker said. The timber tract comprising the reservation is owned by the Menominees and they also owned the huge sawmill there. Government agents from the department of the interior manage the enterprise for the Indians.

FORMED ADVISORY BOARD
Mr. Oshkenaniew began his speech by reviewing the early land treaties by which the Menominees acquired the reservation and then told how various methods of managing the logging operations failed to give the Indians a suitable income. Congress finally passed an act permitting the Indian funds derived from sale of lumber to be used for the large mill on the reservation. Indians then were permitted to sell their lumber in the markets of the world. The mill burned down Sunday and the speaker declared that negligence was the cause.

When a delegation of the Oneidas went to Washington to ask permission to manage their lumber business themselves without help of government agents, they were given a substitute proposition. A constitution was drafted governing election of seven members of the tribe who were to act as a board of advisors in management of the reservation.

"The commissioner of Indian Affairs granted authority to have the board of advisors elected," said Mr. Oshkenaniew, "but the constitution gives the board of advisors no power whatsoever. Suppose now that the board of advisors should inform the commissioner of Indian Affairs or the superintendent at Neopit that certain things be done. If the commissioner did not want to do as the board of advisors sees fit, the commissioner can simply say no and that would be the end of it."

DON'T WANT PLAN
"When the election for the board of advisors was ordered to take place last month, only 93 members of the tribe went to the polls to vote, though there are more than 1,700 members of the tribe all told. This is because they don't like the constitution as drafted and because it was not submitted for their approval."

The Menominee Indian reservation is our land. It does not belong to the government. We bought it just the same as you did the property you now possess. The timber also belongs to us. We do not like to see it ruthlessly wasted before our eyes.

The speaker said too little was left for the Indians after salaries were paid to the government staff and he also intimated that the supervision of logging and lumbering was not as efficient as it should be.

His hearers were reminded that the Menominees fought side by side with the white people in the Revolutionary war, the Civil war and the World war, thus showing their loyalty and interest in the cause of humanity.

"If my people have rendered help to your people in the wars of the past," remarked the Indian orator, "it shows that we were your friends, and your people and my people of the past were friends, you who sit before me now I consider as my friends. We therefore wish to ask you to help us secure such legislation from congress as will give us the full control and management of our own business."

Have You Piles?
Then You Have Something to Learn
Thousands who have piles have not learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with internal medicine. Neither cutting nor any amount of treatment with ointments and suppositories will remove the cause.

Bad circulation causes piles. There is a complete stagnation of blood in the lower bowel and a weakening of the parts. Dr. J. S. Leonhardt was first to find the remedy. His prescription HEM-ROID is now sold by all druggists. Dr. Leonhardt cured it in 1000 cases with the marvelous record of success in 98 per cent and then decided it should be sold under a rigid money-back guarantee.

Don't waste any more time with outside applications. Get a package of HEM-ROID from Schlitz Bros today. It has given safe and lasting relief to thousands and should do the same for you—it seldom fails.

Now is the Time to Use Wadhams "High"

COLD weather coming! If you have been using Wadhams "Low", (or any other gas) you should switch to Wadhams "High". Your motor will start much easier. Saves your battery. Best in all seasons, but a necessity in cold weather.

What writes the "Blue Book" of Used Car Prices?

"BLUE" Book is right when turn-in time comes and you face the discouraging allowance value that is listed against your car.

Then it is brought home to you that it's not the springs, or the upholstery or the steering gear that have set the ratio of deterioration but the condition and probable future life of the power line!

It's there, in the vital moving parts—motor, transmission, universals, rear-end—that the evil of cheapened fuel has marked its costly debit.

From within, ragged explosions, the uneven power-delivery of carbonized valve action and the feeble friction-protection of heat and kerosene-weakened oil have worked more disaster than the external shocks and legitimate wear of road mileage. Cheapness and carelessness have proved costly luxuries.

Wadhams True Gasoline

frees your car from this needless internal burden—and it actually costs less by the trip or season than the merely pump-cheap substitutes.

The motor that has been consistently operated on Wadhams has never suffered through a kerosene-diluted oil supply. Its valve action has never been impaired by heavy deposits of free carbon. Its power line has not been forced to withstand the racking shocks of a motor fuel that continually misses fire.

From the day you buy your car straight through to the time you sell it, True Gasoline will sharply prove its economy in every phase of your motoring.

H. S. Folks Should Have Knowledge Of History When They Finish This Course

"Well," said B. W. Wells, head of the history department of Appleton High school. "I've finally worked myself around to the point of believing that dates are a good thing, in the study of history."

There was a gasp. After spending five years or more becoming accustomed to the idea that dates are old fashioned and altogether unnecessary in the study of anything but archaeology, it is rather tragic to have the theory exploded.

But Mr. Wells believes that one can't achieve a comprehensive knowledge of history, its causes and effects, without some basic dates to form the skeleton of that knowledge. It is so easy to serve the pie before the soup, using a homely illustration. That is to say, if we are dealing with a long period of time, dates are necessary. Of course, it isn't very practical to learn ten or fifteen dates between the years 1850-1870. Learn stepping stones throughout each century, which can bridge the gap between one end of a great movement and the beginning of another.

Mr. Wells is giving a course in high school that is equal to the best in college American history courses. He uses an unusual syllabus, which he compiled and outlined this summer, as the foundation for the forum discussion, carried on in class. One of the interesting features of that syllabus is the fact that it is absolutely useless for cramming purposes, and invaluable, if marked with the opinions, memoranda of class discussions, and home study and reading of the owner. History is taught with as much analogy to the present as possible, and the discussion of bills, the constitution, state and politics and commerce, is designed to give each student a working and voting knowledge of the mechanics of his government.

As much economics is brought into use and study as the students are capable of understanding. And an invaluable amount of map work correlates geography, commerce, and historical events. A Babson business barometer, tabulated since 1860, lies on Mr. Wells' desk, so that any business question can be definitely cleared of ambiguity.

The many interesting sources of information Mr. Wells has collected are easily accessible. Clippings from the Literary Digest, and many periodicals, briefs of famous law cases and decisions in the courts of the United States, almanacs of business and farming statistics, since 1870, and many up to date source books are included in the material.

And so the only thing the student really needs is the desire to learn what there is to be learned, and a certain amount of judicious effort. He will have accumulated from this course a wealth of valuable information, which he ought to have at his fingertips, and he will also have an appreciable start toward being liberally educated.

ON THE SCREEN

MIX A CHARMER IN "THE HEART BUSTER"

Tom Mix is coming to the Elite Theatre Saturday and Sunday in a new William Fox western production, "The Heart Buster." This picture is the fiftieth in which Mr. Fox has featured Tom, and although the title sounds mushy, you will find that the western star does not have to doff his spurs and chaps and become a gay Lothario to break the hearts of the girls.

DRAMA OF WORKING GIRL AT ELITE

George Fitzmaurice, director of the Samuel Goldwyn production, "Tarnish," which finishes its engagement at the Elite Theatre tonight, firmly believes that the American girl has a place in the business world, and that every girl should learn to support herself and be financially independent. But, he states, there is one disadvantage.

"With the indolent and self-indulgent father," claims the director, "the temptation to allow his daughter to shoulder more than her share of the responsibility of supporting the family sometimes becomes too great. He begins to feel that he can ease up in his own work and spend more upon his own pleasures.

"Such a situation forms the basis of the story of 'Tarnish,' which, as is well known, was the most successful stage play on Broadway during the past season.

"GETTING HER MAN" IS THRILLING DRAMATIC FILM OF ADVENTURE

At the New Bijou Theatre today and Saturday is being presented one of the most thrilling and dramatic photoplays of adventure which has come to the New Bijou in many weeks. It is "Getting Her Man," a Gerson Picture, starring the beautiful and talented Ora Carew.

The story revolves about Doris Stanton, a member of the Secret Service, as played by Miss Carew, who goes forth upon a dangerous mission into the Canadian northwest in search for the leader of a band of international smugglers. A dramatic twist is given to this situation by the fact that she has a private score to settle with this man—a revenge for his attempt upon her brother's life, whom she leaves behind her near death when she sets out to "get her man."

The story is told in intensely dramatic fashion and the interest is never permitted to lag, due in many respects, to the numerous unusual twists in the story. The man she is seeking is found by her, through an act of service on his part, in taking her to safety during a storm. When she finally recognizes him as her quarry she realizes she has fallen in love with him.

Thus, torn between love and duty, the film weaves a thread of dramatic sequence to the climax which comes thrillingly at the very end of the picture.

Beside the very splendid acting, upon the part of the star and her support, which consists of Jay Morely, in the leading male role, Arthur Wellington, Hal Stephens, Fernando Galvez and Helen Howell, the settings of the story are beautiful and at times stirring, being set in natural surroundings right in the heart of the great north woods.

You will find "Getting Her Man" as engrossing, as romantic, as thrilling a photoplay as you have seen in many days.

EVERY DAY WOULD BE CANDY DAY IF YOU ASK YOUNGSTERS

Boys and girls probably will vote their approval of candy day, which is to be observed on Saturday. Dads had better get larger coins changed into nickels, for the slogan of the day is "Ask Dad for a nickel on candy day," and it isn't likely that small son or daughter will forget the slogan.
Appleton stores have made special preparations for the day, when young men are supposed to give their sweethearts candy, husbands are supposed to make peace with their wives with similar gifts, and the small people will, or ought to be allowed, to consume all the suckers, licorics and gum drops they desire.
In fact, candy day is like another Christmas or birthday.

MERCHANTS ARE WILLING TO TAKE SIGNS OFF STREET

Problem of Finding Places to Park Cars Considered at Merchants' Dinner

College eve some day may be rid of its many signs projecting out over its sidewalks and thus be beautified if the common council carries out a recommendation made by the retail trade division of the chamber of commerce at a dinner Thursday evening in Hotel Northern. Merchants also discussed the parking problem and showed a leaning toward a time limit and also a desire to see a terminal point established for motorbuses.

Three aldermen of the ordinance committee were present: George Richards, chairman, C. D. Thompson and Harry Callahan. They were invited to the meeting to consider the street sign and parking matters and contributed to the discussion.

EXPLAIN ORDINANCE
Alderman Richards explained that an ordinance exists at present requiring a permit to be obtained before any sign is erected overhanging the sidewalk, and that none must project more than two feet from the building. He said the number of signs had grown considerably and that their size was increasing also in order that one merchant's sign may be seen above another. The result is that they have become a nuisance and a danger because it is found that many are unsafe. He mentioned how other cities are eliminating them entirely and that a more attractive street is the result.

E. A. Schmalz, manager of the Downer drug stores, said his buildings had these signs but that he was ready to take them down when the other merchants did. He made a motion that the council study the question and formulate an ordinance that would take care of the situation. The motion was seconded by W. C. Fish, grocer, who said he would be willing to remove his produce stands from the sidewalks if competitors also would be obliged to do likewise. The motion was adopted unanimously.

PARK CARS ALL DAY
John R. Diderich and Ambrose Wilton spoke concerning the parking problem. The former declared that 25 to 30 businessmen park their cars on College eve all day, according to a survey made recently and the parking space opposite Conway hotel is almost empty at the same time. If these cars and those offered for sale in garages were removed it would be one step toward solution of the problem. A time limit might serve to remedy the situation, he said.

He also declared that while the merchants are glad to have the motorbus lines bring more shoppers to the city, they should not be permitted to usurp parking space at important corners. A terminal should be provided somewhere. Mr. Diderich also said he looked for the day when garages would be built three or four stories high and businessmen could keep their cars there. With this service would be an arrangement so a business man could telephone and have his car in front of his establishment within a few minutes.

Mr. Wilton gave a report on a checkup of parking places and mentioned three: the lot opposite Conway hotel, the lot next to Hotel Northern and the lot next to Lanesdale Motor Co. building on Washington st. Businessmen could use these, he said, and help keep the streets clear.

Alderman Richards explained that the clause proposing a time limit on parking had been omitted from the recently enacted traffic ordinance because no decision could be reached. Questionnaires were sent to merchants and 51 favored a time limit, most of them suggesting an hour. Fifty-four opposed the idea.

J. D. Steel said he heard it intimated that if the Wisconsin Traction Light Heat & Power Co. could gain cooperation of city officials and the public it might discontinue its city car line for an experimental period of a few months and run silent motorbuses not only traversing the present street car route but also adding loops in districts now without service. Mr. Steel declared this was worth bearing in mind.

No action was taken on further traffic regulation.

ORANGE INVADES FOND DU LAC FOR BATTLE ON GRID

Appleton High Will Attempt to Repeat Last Year's 10 to 6 Victory

CONFERENCE STANDING

E. Green Bay	0	0 .000

Appleton high Saturday afternoon invades Fond du Lac in an effort to pull that team down from first place and repeat the Orange 10 to 6 victory of last year. While Appleton made a poor showing at Sheboygan last week, Coach Baker of Fond du Lac considers the Orange a dangerous team and has been drilling his men in preparation for one of the hardest battles on their schedule. Fond du Lac fans regard the Appleton game as the most important home tilt on the menu, and are expecting a record crowd. They are hoping and planning to wipe out last season's defeat with a strong aerial attack, the line being somewhat lighter than the average squad. Last year Fond du Lac lost to Sheboygan, 28 to 0, which was considerably worse than the showing made by Appleton this year. Saturday Fond du Lac defeated Manitowoc and came through the fracas in fine shape.

Jule Kevin, Orange coach, has been working his men overtime ever since they met Sheboygan, and his squad looks much better than last week. Kevin has been working on a defensive plan for the Red's passing attack, and also put in a lot of time on the dummy. He has taught his charges several new plays besides drilling them on the old ones.

LINEUP CHANGED
Several changes have been made in the Orange lineup. Bieler has been shifted from fullback to center to replace Lethen who will start as guard, Wenzel stepping into full in Bieler's place. Frazer will start at left end, Geipke, bruised his hip badly in scrimmaging and will be unable to start at end. Rietz, a second stringer, looks good at half and probably will get a chance to play in that position Saturday.

Probable lineups Saturday:

Orioles Find Flag Winning An Easy Task

Baltimore has won its sixth straight International League pennant. It finished in a walk 18 games ahead of Toronto in second place and 34 in advance of Buffalo in third. It was one of the hollowest victories in the history of the organization.

Baltimore, all told, copped 117 tilts to 48 defeats. It hung up a percentage of .709. The Orioles got away to a splendid start and set the pace the entire route. It clinched the flag weeks before the end of the season. From past indications, Baltimore is simply too good for the other members of the circuit.

In the American League this year some 20 games separated Washington from the last place team. A glance at the International shows there were exactly 63½ games difference between Baltimore and Jersey City which finished last.

PIGSKIN PRIMER

Explain what is meant by the use of the term "quick opening." When a football team seeks to make a quick opening for the player carrying the ball, the linesmen are arranged as far as possible so that two of the offensive linesmen can attack one of the defense, thereby enabling the ball-carrier to dart into the opening thus made for a short gain.

You can't help but admire the tremendous courage of Judge Landis in barring such an important individual as a second-assistant coach from the series—How the bat boy ever escaped the czar's judicial wrath is beyond us.

It is said that Mr. Sand of the Phillies curiously refused the proffered bribe of $500 to throw a game....You can't get very far on $500 anyway.

You are asked to believe none of the other Giants knew about the attempted bribe....You are asked to believe it but you are an awful hick if you do.

Mr. O'Connell came to the big leagues as the $75,000 beauty....It looks as if he will depart as the $500 goat.

Joe Jackson, Eddie Cicotte and Buck Weaver of Black Sox fame will now arise and sing that appealing little ballad, entitled "You Don't Know the Half of It, Dearie!"

Perhaps the enterprise would have been more successful if Mr. O'Connell had used Secretary Fall's little black valise.

In a way we are sorry Mr. Sand didn't take the $500....It's been a long time since the Philadelphia ball park had a sell-out.

It is said that nobody could ever get a rise out of Jim Jeffries....Maybe that's why he never went in for aviation.

The Girl Who Sinned-to Save

Has every woman her price? When the life of a loved one is at stake, is there a degree of desperation, that over-rides every instinct of honor in a woman's soul?

In the November issue of True Story Magazine is the story of a girl who faced that tragic problem. Her bitter fight against the cruel conditions that threatened to destroy her soul—and her final triumph is one of the most heart-stirring, powerfully dramatic true-life stories ever told. It is entitled "A Modern Magdalen," and is only one of the great features in the November issue of True Story Magazine.

1923 Stars Fail To Show This Season

Detroit, Mich.—Three of the greatest recruits in the 1923 American League campaign were Heine Manush, Detroit; Bill Kamm, Chicago, and Homer Summa, Cleveland. They were heralded far and wide as coming stars. They were termed the finds of the season. Much was expected of them.

But this year they have been anything but the brilliant fielders and stout hitters of the 1923 chase. Manush, a .350 batter in his first year in fast company, is now hitting around .250. Counted upon by Manager Cobb to fill the position left vacant by the passing of Bobby Veach, the former Western League star has been a huge disappointment. Kamm, the $100,000 boy from San Francisco, is in the same boat. Kamm, in 1923, hit over .300. He was up near the top in clotting doubles and his fielding was of a high order. He was considered the only one of the group of high-priced "beauties" to make good last year.

But this year his stick work has gone "ball to smash," as it were. Kamm, like Manush, is under the .250 figure today. Not long ago Willie did the unusual thing of requesting to be benched. He had an idea it would get him out of his hitting slump. But it didn't.

Summa, in 1923, ranked as one of the outstanding stars on the Speaker pay roll. He was right up amongst the swat leaders for a time. True he didn't remain there, but he did manage to turn in a batting average of well over .300 for the chase. He'd be better in another season was the accepted verdict.

Just What Is The Value of Satisfaction?

It is almost impossible to measure the value of satisfaction in dollars and cents. No matter how little an article costs, if it does not give satisfaction, it is surely not worth the price you have paid for it.

Yet—

Many people, in purchasing meat, do not give this fact consideration.

A few cents more for meat, will mean perfect satisfaction.

"MORE COMFORT AND QUALITY FOR LESS MONEY", CHEVROLET

What motor cars cost in 1913 as contrasted with their cost today, demonstrates a striking proof of the economies wrought in automobile manufacture and distribution. Nearly every make of car that was sold in 1913 and is sold today cost considerably more in the pre-war period.

Statisticians of the Chevrolet Motor Company have shown that taking a group of cars in the $1,500 class and a representative group of cars in the less than $1,000 class, the price decrease since 1913 has been almost 50 per cent, while the price differential for all commodities as shown by Government figures is a 45 percent increase over 1913.

In spite of the fact that the price of automobiles is less today, the product itself has been vastly improved. Today cars are more beautiful, more comfortable, more mechanically perfect and more dependable.

The Chevrolet statistical department has worked out an interesting comparison between the quantity of basic food products that were required to purchase a Chevrolet touring car in 1913 and that required to purchase the corresponding model today. It must be borne in mind that the 1913 Chevrolet factory price for the touring car was $1,000, while the touring car that has succeeded this model lists today for $510.

The cotton grower in 1923 would have to pick and prepare sixteen bales of cotton for a Chevrolet, while today he would need to exchange but four bales.

Eleven years ago a tobacco grower would have to raise and cure 7,460 pounds of tobacco while today he would have to exchange but 1820 pounds for this car.

Sheep raisers today receive a Chevrolet for 4,080 pounds of sheep, for which in 1913 they would have to give 21,015 pounds of their live product.

It took 1,576 bushels of corn in 1913 for a Chevrolet; today it takes but 436 bushels.

Against 1,075 bushels of wheat in 1913, only 395 bushels would be required today to purchase a Chevrolet.

Six hundred seventy six bushels of potatoes today would purchase this car, as contrasted with 1,301 bushels 11 years ago, while 1,415 pounds of butter today could be exchanged for the present model that required 3,177 pounds of butter a decade ago in a trade.

The pounds of cattle, hogs or wool that were required in exchange for a Chevrolet in 1913 were practically two and a quarter times greater than would be required today for a greatly improved product.

WALTER P. CHRYSLER'S WEEKLY TRAFFIC TALKS

RESPECT TRAFFIC OFFICER.

Be attentive to the traffic officer. He will then be more considerate of you. Then too he is a human being and entitled to respect.

Traffic regulations include the right of the police to vary regular rules where necessary or desirable under unusual conditions, or at congested points in case of emergency, and they are to be obeyed accordingly.

Remember that the traffic officer is at work to help move motor and pedestrian traffic as rapidly, safely and smoothly as possible. In your relations with him be courteous, thoughtful and reasonable. It pays. The traffic officer hasn't the easiest job in the world. That's worth keeping in mind.

"WATCH OUT FOR THE CHILD"

In Washington during the summer months one will see signs which read: "Vacation days. Watch out for the child."

A very good sign but the warning is of just as much importance during the 12 months of the year. To be sure, drivers should be especially alert during vacation months when children are at home and often playing in the street. But then one can never be too alert.

Cities must provide adequate playgrounds for children and then must see to it that the children play there. It is a curious fact that so many boys prefer to play where motor cars and trucks are speeding by. Boys like to take chances and parents must assume the obligation of teaching their boys and girls never to take a chance.

Always be careful.

KEEP TO THE RIGHT

Keep to the right. That is a motor car axiom in America.

Keep to the right in passing another car and in rounding a corner. Keep to the right when approaching a hilltop, cross roads or street.

Keep to the right of the center of the road even if you think you have the highway to yourself.

Keep to the right of street cars.

Keep to the right on a street divided either by a parkway, walk, street car reservation, side of safety, etc.

Accidents by the score would be prevented if this simple rule was observed carefully day and night.

Keep to the right.

CHRYSLER GOES 1000 MILES IN 1007 MIN

Perfect Oiling and Cooling System Kept Car in Excellent Condition

Shattering all previous distance endurance records, a stock Chrysler Phaeton covered 1,000 miles in 1,007 minutes elapsed time at Fresno, Calif., Sept. 17th.

Deducting the time consumed for necessary stops, such as for gasoline, oil, tire changes and food for the driver, the net running time was 878 minutes 10.8 seconds, an average speed of 68.331 miles an hour.

The distance, 23 miles longer than the New York Central Railroad's route from New York to Chicago, was made in 5 hours and 21 minutes less running time than the famous Twentieth Century Limited's schedule time between America's two largest cities. It was made in an hour and 20 minutes less than the famous train has ever completed its shorter run.

Certification of the Chrysler used for this amazing demonstration as a strictly stock car was made by the Los Angeles Times, which recently offered a trophy for such a feat, and which the Chrysler won. The time was clocked and certified by three automobile members of the American Automobile Association.

The car was driven by Ralph De Palma, noted automobile race driver. It was the second record breaking feat he has hung up with Chrysler stock cars within three months. On July 16, driving another stock Chrysler, De Palma tore up Mount Wilson, near Los Angeles, in 25 minutes, 43.35 seconds, breaking the former stock car record by more than two minutes, and the non-stock record as well.

This latest test which rolled two Indianapolis races into one, was made on the Fresno race track. Traffic conditions naturally prevent such a test on highways. But Chrysler enthusiasts, who saw the grueling run, point out that a race track is no better than any ordinary highway, and in spots the Fresno track is actually not as good.

"Speed was not the prime purpose of the demonstration," is the word received by J. E. Fields, vice-president of the Maxwell and Chrysler Motor Corporations, from the Greer-Robbins Co., and George Campe, Inc., Maxwell-Chrysler distributors in Los Angeles and San Francisco, respectively who entered the car.

The Chrysler Six is a ready known as a car that will deliver better than 70 miles an hour, if anyone cares to go that fast. Endurance in high speed work was the real test. And the combination of 1,000 miles at a running average of 68.331 miles an hour is a speed that tells a story of amazing endurance.

"If you have ever driven the ordinary car at 40 miles an hour," commented Mr. Fields on the Chrysler's brilliant performance, "you know it is a terrific strain for the car. In the Chrysler, however, there is not only no indication that the motor is putting forth unusual effort, but it actually is not stretching itself. The Chrysler rolls along as smoothly, an easily, as unstrained at 65 and 75, as it does at 40."

"A car with destructive vibration does not stand a thousand miles at 48 miles an hour. An engine with anything but a perfect oiling system would be wrecked long before it traveled a thousand miles with throttle wide open. A car with anything but a perfect cooling system could not possibly keep cool at its topmost effort for more than 14 hours, and that on a day when the temperature reached 109 degrees."

De Palma recently bought for his personal use a Chrysler phaeton—the same model car that he drove to this and the M.L. Wilson record. It and his Miller Special racing car are his two automobile pets.

PRaise MAXWELL'S SPRING SUSPENSION

Engineers Claim New Feature Benefits Transmission Vibration

Maxwell and Chrysler engineers—the men who have been responsible for three outstanding improvements recently built into the former—say that the spring suspension of the Maxwell motor, a feature exclusive to that car, is one of the greatest steps toward eliminating the transmission of vibration power accomplished in engine mounting.

"This spring suspension design has unmistakably smoothed and otherwise improved general car performance."

"It has accomplished two notable things. First, it prevents all perceptible engine vibration from being transmitted to the car frame or to the body. It also insulates the engine against road shocks."

"This spring suspension is a simple device. Ordinarily the front end of an automobile engine is bolted rigidly to the engine frame, as is the case at the rear and this places it in direct contact with the chassis frame and the entire body. Such practice, of course, transmits vibration through out the car, often exaggerating it."

ROLLIN PROVES TO BE THE ECONOMICAL FOUR CYLINDER CAR

European Type Motor, New Carburetor and Specially Designed Crank Shaft

The Rollin has more notable features than have ever been offered before in any car in the world at any price.

While many of these improvements are new to American motor car buyers there is not a single feature of the Rollin that has not been thoroughly proven, either in this country or abroad, by actual practice and accepted by the highest standards of automotive engineering. Some Rollin features, the carburetor, for instance, have been developed to a higher degree of perfection than has ever been approximated before in any four-cylinder car.

Never was so fine a car offered at so low a price.

The Rollin motor is the result of twenty years of study of four cylinder internal combustion engines on the part of Rollin H. White, Buick engineer to it are the best of the principles European engineering authorities have perfected in firmly establishing the sound and economical Four. In it America has, for the first time, a perfected light weight, small displacement, high compression, four cylinder motor. A perfected four—a practical four. A four about which there is nothing mysterious, and nothing any experienced automobile man would not thoroughly understand.

VIBRATION DEFEATED

Precision balancing of piston and rod assemblies as well as a balanced four-bearing crankshaft insures smooth motor operation at any speed in the Rollin. Vibration is eliminated by use of a special proven aluminum alloy. Rugged strength and surface hardness equal to that gained by thousands of miles of travel is provided by a new heat treatment method. By scientific design the piston is shaped to carry off heat rapidly. Expansion is minimized. A split in the skirt of the piston prevents seizing. These things, with careful machining and fabrication, permit snuggers of initial fit in the cylinder and assure the long life of the piston.

Built to endure! The Rollin chassis is remarkable for its rugged strength, its improved torque tube drive, and its low, scientific balance to the road. A stiff frame with four unusually strong cross members, proven body rattles and squeals. This construction and three-point chassis suspension also prevents the side rails from weaving.

A feature of the engine mounting is the angle at which the motor lies in its supports, the rear and being just a little lower.

Rollin's luxury, Maximum Safety! Rollin's transverse rear spring construction makes possible riding ease and comfort long wanted by the motoring public in a light car. It eliminates the uncomfortable separation of body sway. It enables the car to hold the road with perfect ease and security at all speeds. Maximum safety is further provided by mechanical operation, internal expanding four wheel brakes. Equalization is simple and complete. A glance at the brake shoe shows there is but one adjusting point. Rollin four wheel brakes combine ease of adjustment, uniformity of action, dependability, and utmost safety.

CADILLAC LEADER IN FINE CAR FIELD

Cadillac leadership has a very definite and tangible foundation. It has a permanent character, which the owner recognizes as an invaluable attribute. The qualities from which it springs have been tested now for more than twenty years, and never has Cadillac's position been so strong as it is today in the various important factors that determine the worth of a motor car to its owner.

To the motorist, Cadillac has much to offer in value, in satisfaction, in performance and in service. Its long and honorable record is eloquent of sound policies faithfully followed, of confidence well bestowed. Without stint and without compromise, Cadillac has always given a full measure of excellence, and in return a critical public has made it the leader of the fine car field.

DAIRY OPERATES RED SPEED WAGON

One of the first cars that ever bore the name of Speed Wagon was delivered, as it came from the assembly line, to the Hunter Dairy, a company distributing its products in Lansing, Mich., home of the Red Motor Car Company and the Speed Wagon. That was late in 1914, nearly ten years ago. With something over 400,000 miles to its credit this Speed Wagon continues to deliver its daily load of cream and milk to Lansing homes in time for the morning cereal.

The body of this Speed Wagon has all reinforcing members on the outside, leaving the inside walls perfectly smooth. This construction makes possible a more even load, since the dimensions of the body are such that the milk bottles can be put in it

BALLOON TIRES NOW REGULAR EQUIPMENT ON HUDSON-ESSEX

The outstanding value of the Hudson and Essex and Essex line is the Coach. Hudson-Exsex has specialized on this car until the Coach is the largest selling six-cylinder closed car in the world. It is unmatched volume that enables Hudson-Exsex to offer this Coach at this price. The Coach is exclusive to Hudson and Essex.

Both Hudson and Essex cars are built in the same plant, under similar patents, by the same management, and to an identical standard of material, workmanship and exacting inspection.

Both cars now have genuine balloon tires as standard equipment. With them the ease of riding is simply amazing. Hudson-Exsex has not merely "added balloon tires." It has designed steering gears and other vital parts so that the balloon tires have become an integral part of the car's mechanism. These are the easiest steering, and the easiest riding cars Hudson ever built.

While Hudson-Exsex are unmatched in Coach values, they also have open cars of exceptional quality for those who desire them. There is the Essex touring car for five passengers, the Hudson speedster for four-five passengers, and the large seven-passenger Hudson Phaeton.

Hudson sedans this year are more beautiful than ever before. Yet the prices are around $1,000 less than would be expected. The two sedans are respectively five and seven-passenger.

The Hudson-Exsex line of cars covers an exceptional wide price range. One of them will meet the needs of almost any purchaser. All are of outstanding value and should be seen before any car is bought.

OLDS ENJOYS BIG INCREASE IN SALES

Business throughout the country is on the upward trend if the sale of Oldsmobiles is any criterion. During the month of September more Oldsmobiles were sold than during any previous month since April this year, when practically 3000 cars were placed in the hands of owners, according to figures announced this week by the Olds Motor Works, Lansing, Michigan. Orders on hand indicate that October will show a still higher record.

A substantial increase in sales is noted in the agricultural districts, an analysis of September Oldsmobile business shows, although a gain is registered in every section of the country, both urban and rural. This betterment in the farming community reflects the improved financial condition of the farmer.

During the month just ended the factory shipped to dealers slightly over 5000 cars. Due to the new manufacturing schedule system employed by Olds, this represents about the number of retail sales. This new manufacturing and sales plan requires ten day reports from dealers as to the number of cars they have on hand, together with estimates of future business. In this manner the factory is enabled to regulate shipments to dealers and prevent them from becoming overstocked—in fact shipments are kept in line with retail sales.

One of the outstanding features of the present excellent business situation is the great demand for closed cars which exceeds that of all previous years. So great has been this demand that the Olds Motor Works for the first time in its 27 years in business entirely suspended production of open car models for one week recently so that it could put its full efforts on the production of closed cars for the six days, and thus in a measure ease up the pressure from the dealers for the big demand from the public for this type of body. At the present time it is taking every closed job that can be turned out by the Fisher Body plant recently established on the Olds property.

The recent introduction of a five-passenger Coach is believed to have materially accelerated this big demand for closed cars. The reception accorded the new Coach has been even greater than anticipated, and at the present time this model is being sold as rapidly as dealers can be supplied.

The present six-cylinder Oldsmobile was introduced just exactly one year ago and is the product of a new policy under the Olds Motor Works concentrates its entire resources and efforts on one class, with a complete line of nine body styles. Mechanical life of the car has been continued into the 1925 selling year with only such changes as improvements and developments in automotive engineering have made advisable. The body lines have been refined in several important particulars, the most noticeable being a higher hood and cowl with new and latest design nickel-plated radiator. All bodies are finished in beautiful satin lustre Duco.

During the past 12 months since the six-cylinder Oldsmobile has been in production there have been shipped and sold more than 48,000 cars, making the year the best 12 months period in the history of the company.

EVERY BUICK BUILT TO GIVE LASTING, EFFICIENT SERVICE

Ripon Man Praises Car as Perfect for Transportation

The wonderful reception that the motoring public has given the new Buick Sixes, Standard and Master Models is not surprising in view of Buick's history.

For more than twenty years Buick has been building up a reputation for sound construction, dependability, and durability. Thousands of Buick models in use everywhere in the United States are constant advertisements of this policy. Thousands of motorists know from actual experience the solid worth that is found in every Buick.

When the new Buick models were announced, therefore, these motorists knew that there were certain things they could take for granted. They knew that Buick would adhere firmly to well established principles such as the Valve-in-Head engine. They knew that the new Buicks would embody all the basic essentials of motoring—power, speed, dependability, comfort, and adequate braking power.

Because they could take these things for granted motorists were able to devote fuller attention to the many new features of the Buick Standard and Master Sixes. They found a wealth of these, from such details as an automatically lubricated fan, to glass enclosures and heaters for open models, and one-piece windshield shields for closed models.

The thousands who visited Buick showrooms found a most complete line of motor cars at prices that make them the greatest values on the market. They found that whether they buy a Standard or a Master Six they get the same chassis, as far as mechanical design is concerned, the only material difference being in size.

Thousands of these new Buicks are now on the streets and highways of the nation and are adding still more to the Buick reputation for value and dependability.

BUICK IS BEST FROM ALL STANDPOINTS

The motorist who has owned several makes of motor cars is in a good position to judge the worth of Buick. Praise from such owners is very significant. Mr. G. B. Horner, of Ripon, Wisconsin, is such an owner. He writes "In 1920 I bought a Buick Six Touring. Its performance has been so satisfactory that I am moved to write you this letter as an acknowledgment. No replacements have been made except three spring shackles bolts. The type of service the car is giving today on all sorts of roads and in all sorts of weather is the very highest and most satisfactory. I use this car to reach my farm, which is about nine miles from Ripon, part of the road being a heavy type of clay, unimproved, with one rather bad hill. The machine negotiates this trip daily in all weathers with heavy loads. "I have driven several other makes of cars, large and small, and my Buick is by far the most satisfactory in service and performance, cost of maintenance and general usefulness, that it has ever been my fortune to operate. I regard it as an almost ideal perfect instrument of transportation."

WOODEN INDIAN IS NOW VALUED RELIC

By Associated Press. Northampton, Mass.—Happy hunting grounds lie ahead for the cigar store Indian. Since his mysterious disappearance some years back, it develops, he has been improving his social standing.

From his lofty perch by the curbstone, the stolid comrade of a bygone day rose, first to a curio, then to a relic.

Tomorrow he will be an antique, and will take his place in a glass case at the museum, from whence he can cast a coy, if wooden, glance at the prim, mumified lady from an Egyptian tomb.

The day is not far off when he will belong to the very exclusive Tut-Ankh-Amen set.

The collectors are after him. They are invading the dingy back rooms of country cigar stands and buying fancy sums before the dumbfounded owner's nose.

Quite recently $500 was paid by a New York collector for a Washington (D. C.) specimen.

And here Peter McHugh, a veteran tobaccoist, was offered a seemingly fabulous sum. The value of the Indian in this case was increased, however, because he had a bowing acquaintance with Calvin Coolidge at the time the president was a law student.

Time was when Big Chief would not have dreamed of aiming so high. He was the brunt of actors' jokes. His once gay garb became stained a dull brown after many tobacco-chewing marksmen had tried their skill.

He became a symbol of wooden-headedness; his figure became associated with cheap brands of cigars. He seemed to have sunk as low as it is possible for a mere effigy to sink—and then Big Chief disappeared. But he did not vanish.

Many wondered where he had gone. Already wise collectors were plying their prophetic trade. They saw a great future for him, and that future is at hand.

DODGE BROTHERS GET THEIR OWN TRUCK DIVISION

Graham Brothers to Operate A Dept. of Older Concern; New One Ton Truck Forthcoming

Graham Brothers, heretofore builders of truck units and later of complete trucks employing Dodge Brothers parts will hereafter be operated as a division of Dodge Brothers. The organization and identity of Graham Brothers is to remain intact. This move is a logical development of the two concerns that have been operating with implied affiliation for some time.

There is in process a new one-ton truck shortly to be announced which will serve to enlarge the scope of the business and will lend increasing importance to the change of status. Since first offering complete trucks Graham Brothers has used Dodge Brothers chassis and the trucks in many cases were sold by Dodge Brothers dealers with the implied sanction of the factory. Under the new arrangement practically all Dodge Brothers sales outlets become available for the marketing of the line of trucks.

From Dodge Brothers viewpoint the change in status gives the Company a completely developed commercial vehicle department in the form of a successful going concern. It also has

Many New Features Now Being Added To New Ford Sedan

Change in the upholstery in the Ford Sedan, which has been effected lately, has given the car a most attractive interior.

This Ford type, which has been highly popular since its introduction into the Ford line, is now upholstered in a soft, durable cloth of blue-slate background relieved by a royal blue stripe. Head lining and floor rugs harmonize nicely in color, and blue silk curtains on the three rear windows give an added tone of richness to the interior equally effective in the day time and under the soft glow of the dome light at night.

Appointments are complete, the Ford dash light, windshield wiper and rear vision mirror now being part of the standard equipment of the Ford Sedan.

With the change in upholstery, the closed car buyer is given a little more variety in the selection of a car for family use—the Ford with its blue interior or the always attractive Tudor, upholstered in dark brown.

Upholstery in the Ford coupe also remains in brown cloth, affording the most practical and pleasing effect under the wide variety of uses to which this popular Ford closed type is adapted.

the virtue of "bringing along its own house" and the addition of truck manufacturing department thus will not claim space that is being put to excellent use by the larger concern.

WILLARD BATTERY FAMOUS AMONG THE RACERS OF NATION

Auto, Boat and Aeronautical Racers Choose This Electrical Equipment

The Willard Storage Battery Company has been famous for some time for the success of its batteries in racing events with internal combustion engines. Auto racers, speed boat racers and racing aviators have placed their stamp of approval on Willard batteries as the electrical unit for their machines and Willard's record for winning has been unbroken.

Just before the recent Gold Cup boat race, Commodore H. B. Greening of Hamilton, Ont., procured a Willard battery for his "Rainbow IV," especially for the race. That he won, and in winning, carried a Willard battery is another instance where history repeats itself.

Indianapolis Speedway race winners for years have used Willards in their cars. The last race saw every car that placed in the money equipped with this battery. Other auto racers and marine men have found in Willard the battery it takes to put over a winner.

MANUFACTURERS OF VALLEY HEAR ABOUT EXPORT BUSINESS

Representatives of United States Board Explains U. S. Service

About 35 businessmen of the Fox river valley, interested in exporting, attended the luncheon at the Conway hotel Thursday noon when F. L. Roberts and T. Park Hay of Chicago spoke by arrangement with the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Roberts is manager of the Great Lakes district of the United States bureau of foreign and domestic shipping and came to this vicinity to explain the widespread service the government is offering through its branch office located in Chicago.

The average businessman, according to Mr. Roberts, does not know what the bureau is or just how it functions and it was his desire to explain the system to them. When the bureau was first organized there were only 25 members, but since the first year the membership has grown to 3,000, indicative of what has been accomplished.

Mr. Roberts reviewed briefly the situation of exporting in the United States and explained what the bureau endeavors to accomplish. Besides representatives in foreign countries, there are now nine district offices in this country.

SPREADS BUSINESS

The real value in the export trade is that it keeps a manufacturer's business spread. The bureau, Mr. Roberts said, does all in its power to help a manufacturer establish connections in foreign countries and maps an itinerary complete with details concerning the markets and other necessary information for persons desiring to invade foreign fields. The bureau does not urge a business man to export if it feels, after analyzing his product, price and the situation, that exporting would not be advantageous to him. Mr. Roberts declared that the bureau was open to the little business man as well as the big and that no discrimination was made.

MERCHANT MARINE

T. Park Hay, the second speaker, is manager of the United States shipping board, the body which operates the war emergency fleet. Mr. Hay spent part of the time reviewing the situation in the country before the war and said that since a thousand ships had been built during the war and were now being used in exporting, he believed that this was a nucleus for a merchant marine. In time, Mr. Hay said, it is hoped that the United States will have a privately owned merchant marine that can compete with any other nation. He brought out the value of a merchant marine as a naval auxiliary and said that a navy without a merchant navy could not function.

C. C. Lamb of Fond du Lac, representing the Rueping Leather company, told of some of his experiences in exporting.

The question arose as to whether there was more "red tape" connected with securing passage on domestic lines than foreign. Mr. Hay said that there was no more, since the only difficulty lies in obtaining a passport and that this did not concern the management of either lines.

36 STATES ASSESS TAX ON GASOLINE

Wisconsin One of Few States Which Does Not Have Gasoline Tax Law

Thirty-six states and the District of Columbia have enacted gasoline tax laws to provide a separate highway fund which will relieve the general property tax, according to a bulletin received by District Tax Assessor Leo Toonen.

Wisconsin, Minnesota, Michigan, Iowa, Missouri, Nebraska, Kansas, Illinois, Ohio, New York, New Jersey and Massachusetts are the states which at present do not operate under a gas tax provision.

Minnesota will vote on a constitutional amendment empowering the levying of a gasoline tax at the forthcoming November election. The Michigan Republican state convention, with one vote in opposition, inserted a gasoline tax plank in its platform, and the proposition will be voted upon by the next Michigan legislature.

At a recent state convention of the boards of supervisors of Iowa a resolution was passed in favor of the gas tax. Missouri will vote on a gasoline tax law at the November election, and the Massachusetts legislature passed such a bill in 1923 which is subject to a referendum at the November election.

Nineteen states had gasoline tax laws prior to Jan. 1, 1923. During 1924, seventeen other states passed gasoline tax laws, and in 1925, the District of Columbia. In all but five of the states the laws provide for the collection of the gasoline tax from the wholesaler. Most of the states provide for distributing the funds, partly for state highway work and partly returned to local units for local uses.

READ HISTORY OF METHODISM HERE

Parchment to Be Placed in Cornerstone of New Church Will Be Read Sunday

An historical service will be held at 7:30 Sunday evening in Methodist Episcopal church auditorium when the skin parchment which is to be enclosed in the cornerstone of the new church on Oct. 18, will be read to the people.

The sketch is collected from many quarters, and dates back to the first gospel sermon ever preached in Appleton, on Oct. 8, 1845, by the Rev. William H. Sampson. This service was held in a shanty, slightly north of College-ave, between Morrison and Durkee-sts. The sketch covers the history of the first Methodist church on College-ave established here, which burned down, and it also includes a description of the dedication of the church on Lawrence-st, which was in 1875. The account of this dedication is taken from a newspaper account, owned by Mrs. H. S. Cooke, Kaukauna. In addition to the historical sketch, a list of the articles to be read.
